WALTER LYMAN BROWN, GLENDALE MAN, SUCCEEDS HERBERT HOOVER AS HEAD OF EUROPE RELIEF WORK

Son of Mrs. J. B. Brown, 408 North Maryland and Brother of Howard L. Brown, Has Offices in London Handling Twenty-nine Millions

Walter Lyman Brown owns 100 feet frontage on Broadway, Glendale.

He is the son of Mrs. J. B. Brown, 408 North Maryland avenue.

He is the brother of Howard L. Brown of 406 North Maryland avenue and Paul Brown, state field secretary of the Christian Endeavor.

He is now the successor to Herbert Hoover in European Relief Work since the latter relinquished that position to take a portfolio in President Harding's cabinet.

That is the record of what might rightly be called a Glendale citizen, although he has been away from this vicinity for nine years.

It was in 1900 that Walter L. Brown graduated from Los Angeles high school on Cemetery hill, the same school which hundreds of Glendale residents, including the writer, attended before and since.

From there he went to the university and specialized in mining engineering in which he perfected himself. And thence to Alaska this now famed member of the Brown family went in the search of gold. Later he was sent to Johannesburg where he directed the operation of the greatest gold mines of south and west Africa.

After seven years in the dark continent he came forth to find a war job awaiting him—a tremendous task thrust upon him by Herbert Hoover as relief director for Belgium with headquarters in Amsterdam. No wonder that he has not been home for nine years.

WALTER LYMAN BROWN
Who Succeeds Herbert Hoover as Head of European Relief Work

Offices Are in London

And today $29,000,000 contributed by Americans for the relief of starving Europeans will pass through the hands of this native son of the Golden West which played a large part in financing this great work. His offices are in London, and without a doubt he is the greatest outstanding American figure to the thousands of hungry to whom he is America's envoy of mercy.

It was in 1919 that this local man was appointed head of the London offices of the American Relief Administration when its work was detached from the United States government. Prior to that time his headquarters had been at Rotterdam, from whence the great fleet of tugboats, the great grain warehouses and the great distributing agencies were operated for the relief of stricken Belgium.

Urged to Stay at Post

Although he was about to resign his post to don the uniform of the United States army, Herbert Hoover personally prevailed upon this associate engineer in great engineering feats to remain at his post and Walter Lyman Brown stuck to his post.

There he sticks still, delivering America's message of hope to the stricken babies, the destitute mothers, the starving populace of the ruined nations—millions being expended under his able direction.

Twice this man of noble purpose has been decorated for his services. He has been made a Belgian officer of the Order of the Crown by King Albert, and decorated with emblem of the French Legion of Honor.

That is the record of the man whom Glendale can call its own—one on whom the prayers of a generation will call a blessing for the food that succors them in this hour of the world's need.

L. A. Heacock Building Home, 711 East Raleigh

Carpenters began work Monday morning on the erection of a modern five-room California bungalow on the lot at 711 East Raleigh street. The house is being built by L. A. Heacock, who recently sold his home on Lomita avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Heacock are residing temporarily at the home of their son, A. B. Heacock of 709 East Windsor Road, where they will remain until their new home is finished.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Heacock have upon several occasions decided to leave Glendale for their old home in Kansas, but invariably they changed their minds and returned to Glendale after a few weeks in the middle west.

Membership application blanks are now to be mailed to all of the business men of Glendale for the charter list of the Glendale Credit Association, which will be operated as a bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. Secretary James M. Rhoades reports a ready response to the call for members.

VISIT GLENDALE FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Coleman of San Fernando visited friends in Glendale last night.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO BOY SCOUT FUND COMING FAST

BIG BROTHERS GIVING AID TO LOCAL ORGANIZATION; SEND IN YOUR CHECK

Like a snowball rolling down hill, the Boy Scout fund in Glendale is gathering more money every day the handy coupon continues in The Glendale Evening News for the "big brothers" of the boys to forward their contributions to R. L. Kent, secretary, Glendale Scout council, 130 South Brand boulevard.

Many events planned for the summer months require the supervision of a leader. In the employment of Benjamin Robison as assistant scout executive, the council believes that it has met the need in a most economical manner. But even this needs financing and so the appeal to the liberality of those who can afford to give to such a worthy cause.

Following are additional subscriptions to the fund over the week end:

Principals grammar scools	$ 8.35
Thomas Wood	5.00
G. B. Woodberry	5.00
Gil A. Cowan	5.00
Mrs. T. W. Preston	5.00
Paul M. Gregg	5.00
Previously acknowledged	235.00
Total to date	$273.25

It is stated that Mr. Gregg is a visitor here, but greatly interested in the work of the Boy Scouts. Richardson D. White, superintendent of the city schools, in bringing in the $8.25 from the school principals, stated that his personal subscription already reported was for $5 in addition to that given by the other teachers.

A. L. FERGUSON'S FATHER DIES

A message received this morning by Mrs. A. L. Ferguson of 518 North Orange street from her husband who was called to the bedside of his father at Clarence, Iowa, reported the death of the venerable man who had passed his 81st birthday. He passed away three hours after the arrival of his son, who is vice-principal of the Glendale Union High school.

DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Cars belonging to A. Guy Frum, Dr. R. L. Young and J. A. Smith were damaged in a smashup last night in front of the Elks' club, according to police reports. Details of the accident are unknown to Chief J. P. Lampert.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR CELEBRATION OF MEMORIAL DAY

DRU NICOLES CHOSEN TO BE MARSHAL; COMMITTEES IN CHARGE OF DETAILS

The first meeting of the General Decoration Day committee was held last night at the call of Rev. C. R. Norton, patriotic instructor of N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., at the Intermediate school.

Arrangements were perfected for the greatest and best Decoration Day in the history of Glendale and if the sentiments of the attendance is any criterion it will be a day of days for the Jewel City.

The meeting was called to order at 7:45 o'clock by Rev. Norton who stated the object of the meeting and called for the election of a permanent chairman. Rev. Norton was promptly elected to that office on motion of Robert Plume. Joseph Griffin was chosen secretary.

Dru Nicoles was chosen as marshal of the day with Joseph V. Griffin as his adjutant. Mr. Nicoles' experience along these lines and his efficient handling of all previous affairs of this nature in Glendale placing him in the position of the "man for the job," as stated by Comrade Robert Taylor. The secretary was instructed to notify by letter all organizations in the city and invite them to participate in the parade, they in turn to inform the marshal of their decision so that they may be placed in their proper position therein.

In this connection Superintendent R. D. White of the city schools earnestly requested the hearty co-operation of all organizations, churches, etc., and pledged the support of the schools.

Legion Support Promised

The American Legion, through its representatives, Mr. Nicoles and Robt. Plume, pledged the support of the Glendale Post and assured the committee that they would have a band of some thirty odd pieces in line and a firing squad for the occasion. B. E. Bassford representing the Forest Lawn Memorial park was present and laid before the committee the plans of that association for this occasion. They have gone to considerable expense to make this a grand success and their arrangements so far were of such a welcome nature that the assemblage voted the association a rising vote of thanks for their efforts.

Among other features of the day they have secured the services of Mme. Constance Balfour, the noted soprano, and Harold Proctor, who will sing at the services at Forest Lawn. Other attractive features are promised by Mr. Bassford that will be announced later.

Representatives were present from the following organizations:

Grand Army of the Republic.
American Legion.
Board of Trustees, city of Glendale.
Chamber of Commerce.
Sons of Veterans.
Daughters of Veterans.
Woman's Relief Corps.
Glendale Schools.
Parent-Teachers' Association.
Forest Lawn Memorial Park Association.

Clifford Archer Dies After Lingering Illness

Clifford C. Archer, who formerly lived with relatives in Glendale, passed away at 7 o'clock Sunday morning at the Portland sanitarium, in Milwaukee, Ore., after a lingering illness of almost a year. The news comes as a sad blow to his numerous Glendale friends, as during his short sojourn in this city he became one of the most popular and well liked young men in the community.

At the time of his death Mr. Archer was twenty-two years old and had just started out with a happy and prosperous view in life. He had completed two years in one of the northwestern universities, and last year he had finished his first year in the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons in Los Angeles. He was a member of the Atlas club of that institution, and was also a Mason.

The body was shipped Sunday to the home of Dr. E. A. Archer, father of the deceased, of Pullman, Wash., where the funeral took place yesterday afternoon. Besides his father Clifford Archer leaves a brother, Dayton, also of Pullman.

VISITS WITH PARENTS

Mrs. Ronald DeReimer of Santa Susanna spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mason of 204½ East Chestnut street.

LEAVES FOR PENNSYLVANIA

Miss Sue Thomas, 304 North Kenwood street, left last night for her home in Pennsylvania. She will stop en route at Yosemite for a week.

Hoot, Mon! Macfarlane And MacGregor Battle! In Cream, Not Scotch!

Scottish history records that when the MacGregor and Macfarlane clans met in Scotland trouble began, and after it was all over the MacGregor clan would lay it to the Macfarlane clan, and the Macfarlane clan would lay it to the MacGregor clan.

John MacGregor and Peter Clark Macfarlane met under the Chautauqua tent after the close of the entertainment last night and shortly afterwards at Cook's ice-cream parlors. The battle began. MacGregor says to Macfarlane:

"Have one on me."

Not Scotch, but ice-cream, of course.

After the first battle, which became so warm that the ice-cream melted in their mouths, Macfarlane said to MacGregor:

"Have another on me."

MacGregor accepted the challenge. The bagpipes played and the battle was on again.

Happily for the clans, Mrs. MacGregor, who was present, offered her services as referee and rendered a decision that the battle was a draw, inasmuch as both clans had consumed an equal amount of ice-cream.

So, MacGregor will continue to walk the streets of Glendale bearing no scars of the battle, and Macfarlane will continue to delight further audiences along the Chautauqua circuit.

PREPARE TO FIGHT TO RETAIN PEACE, URGES AUTHOR

MESSAGE OF PREPAREDNESS IS GIVEN AT CHAUTAUQUA BY PETER C. MACFARLANE

Urging national preparedness, Peter Clark Macfarlane, noted magazine and newspaper writer, last night was the stellar attraction of the 1921 Chautauqua in Glendale. Laughs interspersed with tears brought home from the battlefields of France were among the wealth of information which he gave his hearers. His lecture opened with a most humorous story of his personal experiences in hunting a bear in Texas.

Mr. Macfarlane is noted as a writer and as an interviewer of great men. He told how he succeeded in interviewing Woodrow Wilson when he was governor of New Jersey and how many of his most intimate thoughts and aspirations were confided to him. Likewise did he tell of interviewing Theodore Roosevelt after his return from the "River of Doubt." His story of experiences in "No Man's Land" during the exchange of a barrage between the Americans and the enemy forces, which he told with intermingled emotions of pathos and humor, kept the large audience which filled the big tent to overflowing spellbound during its narration.

Musical Program Pleases

The Sam Lewis company furnished the entire afternoon program yesterday, as well as the prelude in the evening. The numbers presented included such as "Friend of Mine," by Gertrude Craft, artistic reader and entertainer; violin solos by Allen Ament, the Kentucky violinist, "Ava Maria," "Mendelssohn's Concerto in E Minor" and other equally difficult pieces. Sam Lewis, the distinguished Welsh tenor, sang such selections as "Little Mother of Mine," "Dunah." Miss Florence E. Berney, talented pianist played MacDowell's "Concert Etude."

Just prior to Mr. Macfarlane's lecture, Rev. Clifford Cole spoke of the excellent manner in which the peo-

Morris L. Walker Of U. S. Army, Buys Home

Morris L. Walker, United States army officer, recently returned from France, and mother, Mrs. Walker, have purchased the beautiful new property located at 500 Raleigh street, and will make their future home here. Glendale was selected by Mr. Walker after looking for four weeks at different properties in surrounding suburbs of Los Angeles. Charles B. Guthrie's South Brand boulevard office was instrumental in the sale of this property.

Among the Glendale delegates who are attending the Southern California Baptist convention today at Riverside are the Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Ford and Miss Elizabeth Bohannon. Mrs. J. B. Doxsee and daughter, Miss Beatrice, also are in attendance.

Today's World News In Brief

(By United Press to Glendale Evening News)

OBREGON TAKES STEPS TO STOP NEW RELIGIOUS WAR

MEXICO CITY, May 17.—President Obregon today ordered the war ministry to use armed forces to prevent clashes between Socialists and Catholics. He also ordered that militant groups be prevented from meeting either in public buildings or churches. The order grew out of an anti-Catholic disturbance at Morelia, where fifty were killed in a battle last week.

CONSERVATIVES WIN ELECTION VICTORY IN ITALY

ROME, May 17.—Returns from the national elections today rolled up an ever-growing conservative majority. Reports came slowly from widely scattered districts and the press hesitated to make predictions. The general opinion seemed to be that the next chamber will contain from 250 to 285 members of the coalition headed by Premier Giolitti—the party opposing radical Socialists, Communists and other extremists.

STRIKING ELECTRICAL WORKERS AND JAPANESE BATTLE

HONOLULU, May 17.—Nine hundred striking electrical workers and 200 Japanese police fought a pitched battle at Osaka, Japan, according to a Tokio dispatch to the Nippu Jiji, a Japanese language newspaper published here. Twenty strikers and fourteen police were injured in the fighting, the dispatch said. The workers called the strike, it was stated, in an effort to force employers to negotiate on wages and working conditions.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON NOMINATION OF DAVID BLAIR

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A favorable report on the nomination of David H. Blair to be commissioner of internal revenue was ordered today by the senate finance committee. There was no roll call in the committee. The fight on Blair was started by Senator Johnson, California, who declared Blair, a delegate from North Carolina at the Chicago convention, failed to support Johnson as instructed at a state primary. Johnson also said Blair's father-in-law had claims pending before the internal revenue bureau.

POLISH INSURGENTS KILLED BY GERMAN IRREGULARS

OPPELN, Upper Silesia, May 17.—More than 100 Polish insurgents were killed by German irregulars at Gogolin, where the Germans assumed full control today. German losses were trifling. The engagement was bitterly fought, Polish snipers using machine guns and rifles on the Germans who filtered into the city from the open country. The engagement at Gogolin was the most important of numerous skirmishes between the two forces. The Germans continued to fight as irregular forces in conjunction with the Italian forces.

POLISH FORCES STRENGTHEN HOLD ON UPPER SILESIA

BERLIN, May 17.—Polish insurgents strengthened their hold on Upper Silesia today, according to reports here. Italian soldiers who have been holding the Poles away from the southeastern cities of Pless and Rybnik were compelled to withdraw, being outnumbered. Polish forces also entered the nearby town of Nikolai. Pending an allied decision no German troops are being sent into Upper Silesia, but officials are planning on further appeals to the allies on the basis that Germany's reparations obligations will be endangered if she does not have the rich coal region as one of her assets. A report was circulated here that the Polish government is yielding to allied pressure and attempting to have the insurgents withdraw partially from Silesia.

TWO OF LARGEST SHOE INTERESTS IN NATION MERGE

BOSTON, May 17.—The merger of two of the largest interests in the shoe industry, the International Shoe company of St. Louis and the W. H. McElwain company of Boston, was announced here today. Combined assets of the merged companies total approximately $40,000,000. The combined sales of the two companies in 1920 were more than $128,000,000. No public financing will be connected with the merger, it was stated. The factories of the International Shoe company have a capacity of more than 70,000 pairs of shoes a day. The McElwain company has a factory capacity of 40,000 pairs a day.

STOCK MARKET TAKES FAVORABLE TURN; SALES HIGHER

NEW YORK, May 17.—A favorable turn to foreign developments overnight benefited stock prices today. Practically the whole list was firmer and in some cases the quotations were above yesterday. There was a cessation of short selling which began to get under way yesterday. This served to help prices. International Paper was a feature with 1500 shares at 72½ to 72¾, up 5-8 to ⅞. It ran upto 73¾ in the early trading. The prices were new highs for the year. Mexican Petroleum was up ¼ at 149½ and advanced to 150½. Studebaker led the motors with early sales at 80. United States Steel was up 3-8 at 83½ and Crucible was ½ higher at 79½. Rails were inactive at the start. Industrial leaders in the stock market here turned reactionary today after a favorable opening. Republic steel made a new low for the year at 57, near 10 points off from Monday's high. Traders sold the stock on reports that Republic's dividend will be passed when the directors meet tomorrow.

FRANCE SEEKS TO RESTORE HARMONY WITH ENGLAND

PARIS, May 17.—The French government today indicated semi-officially a desire to restore harmony with Great Britain. While Premier Briand met with his cabinet to draft his views on the division of Upper Silesia declaring he would not abandon his support of a partition which will give the bulk of the coal lands to Poland, it was indicated that he would be willing to compromise. With the departments and tension eased noticeably the press was less violent in its assaults on Premier Lloyd George and public discussion was more temperate. Indications were that the government will show its readiness to agree with Great Britain on the awarding of several cities to Germany, cancelling plans to give them to Poland. It was indicated that Italy may be asked to suggest a plan of partition which can be accepted by her allies without loss of dignity. The inter-allied plebiscite commission was asked to submit its report by next Saturday.

PROPOSE TO SECURE PARKS AND POOL BY ASSESSMENT

FORMATION OF DISTRICT TO TAKE IN WHOLE OF CITY SUGGESTED BY C. OF C.

Impressing the necessity for adequate naval protection of the Pacific Coast, Secretary James M. Rhoades of the Chamber of Commerce has sent the following telegraphed message to Senator Hiram W. Johnson and Congressman Walter F. Lineberger at Washington:

"The safety of the entire Pacific slope is jeopardized at this critical time if the great Pacific fleet is weakened or withdrawn on account of inadequate base facilities. Five hundred business men of this association urge and request you to do everything in your power that adequate facilities be secured and the Pacific fleet remain on the Pacific coast."

Formation of an assessment district which will include the whole city was proposed this afternoon at the director's luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce as a means of providing parks and especially a swimming pool immediately. The matter was referred to the Board of City Trustees for action.

During the discussion and dinner at the model bungalow of the Glendale Union High school, the directors expressed their intense desire to see Glendale youngsters get the swimming pool which has been promised them. Bond issues seem futile in view of the division of the town on the matter of location, etc. Therefore the assessment district is considered the final resort.

On report of J. G. Huntley, the board went on record disfavoring the proposed triangular park at Broadway and Central avenue if Broadway is continued straight through to San Fernando Road. It was the committee's opinion that the $12,000 estimated value of the park, to say nothing of the $28,000 or more road improvement, was too great to consider the former.

Among other things considered was the sale of tickets for the Forum dinner Thursday night at which time A. Lincoln Hart and E. F. Saunders will address the members. Secretary Rhoades enlisted the co-operation of the directors in obtaining a guaranteed attendance.

A protest of South Glendale residents regarding the encroachment of Forest Lawn cemetery into the city and the Burbank business license tax also were discussed. The Southern California Metropolitan Loan association, represented by L. B. Beach, was enrolled as a member of the Chamber. The Virginia Sweet Shop, by S. J. Mayes, was also enrolled.

Secretary Rhoades reported that he had forwarded telegrams to Senator Hiram Johnson and Congressman W. F. Lineberger urging adequate naval bases along the Pacific coast.

The following menu was prepared by the Misses Katherine Gray and Dorothy Kendall of Miss Ellen J. Hanson's cooking classes:

Swiss steak, mashed potatoes with gravy, green beans, rolls and butter, banana salad, pineapple Bavarian cream, cake and coffee.

Miss Kathryn Coates Is Oberlin Graduate

Friends of Miss Kathryn Coates, who formerly lived on West Elk avenue of this city and is now a resident of Oberlin, Ohio, report that she will graduate this week from the famous college located in and named after that old Buckeye town. This institution ranks among the highest of any of the eastern institutions of learning and Miss Coates is indeed fortunate in being among its graduating class.

Miss Coates lived in Glendale with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coates for several years until the summer of 1917 when the family moved to their present home in Ohio. She made many friends among the young people of the community when a member of the class of 1917 of the local high school, from which she graduated with honors.

After a few months' rest Miss Coates expects to accept a position as private secretary, for which she has fitted herself in her college course.

MUSICAL, LITERARY PROGRAM FEATURE AT HOSPITAL

GUESTS AND WORKERS PLEASED BY ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN BY STAFF MEMBERS

By "OBSERVER"

Last night a very delightful musical and literary entertainment was provided the guests of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Schwartzfager, assisted by the nurses and members of the staff.

The parlors were beautifully decorated with evergreen and roses and the curtains amply sprinkled with paper bluebirds that under the bright electric lights gave a fine effect.

Both rooms were filled and a very delightful evening spent by all who were fortunate enough to have a seat or even be within earshot. The lobby adjoining was filled in those parts that were within range of vision from the parlors. The stairs were full of interested and appreciative spectators and all entered heartily into the enjoyment of the occasion. There was only one drawback and that was the medical superintendent forbade applause out of consideration for the sick folks overhead.

Program Is Enjoyed

The program opened with a piano duet, "A Garden of Roses," by Mesdames Johnson and Swartzfager, and was rendered in artistic style and was much appreciated. The second item was a vocal duet, "Come, Genial Spring," by two of the first year nurses, Misses Smith and Hall.

Following these were two recitations by Master Frederick Glaze, well learned and well spoken, and heard by all. Child recitations, when well rendered, are a source of much entertainment and pleasure. Such was the case on this occasion.

James Moore of the second year class sang a baritone solo, "The Angel's Serenade," with excellent effect. He has a rich voice which showed to good purpose in this number. He was accompanied by piano and cello, the former by Mrs. John son and the latter by E. J. Moore.

A fine selection from Lowell, "A Day in June," was recited by Miss Mary Adams of the first year class. She delivered the poem with much feeling and expression to the entertainment of the audience which entered into the feeling of that choice bit of Lowell's spring poem.

One of the most appreciated numbers was by a ladies' quartet, the Misses Martin, Adams, Fisher and Munson, which sang with much feeling two selections, "The Streamlet" and "Grumbling Jones." Everybody present felt much like heartily applauding, but as that was forbidden murmurs of appreciation were heard on every hand. The moral of the latter song was, "If you are living on Grumble alley, you'd better move on to Thanksgiving avenue."

The audience was next convulsed with laughter by a recitation rendered by Mrs. Harris, superintendent of nurses, entitled "Return From My Vacation." It was a humorous piece and to be appreciated would have to be heard and seen. Mrs. Harris is a born actress and did her subject full justice.

The closing item on the program was another baritone solo by Mr. James Moore, "In the Time of Roses." He surpassed his first effort if possible in quality of tone and expression. Nobody ever wearies of hearing this young man sing and it is hoped that he may favor us again in the near future.

Music As Healing Agent

Music is recognized as a powerful healing agent and it must be so because of the uplifting and cheering influence it exerts upon the mind when the music is of a high order. I venture to say this in the face of the familiar words sometimes facetiously quoted, namely, "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breasts." The highest forms of music are a gift from heaven and are a blessing of the first magnitude.

Something like a hundred and fifty people were present and there would have been many more had the entertainment been announced a day or two ahead. It was kept a secret till late in the afternoon so that it is a question what could have been done to seat any more people had they come.

These entertainments, because of the limited space, are necessarily of a semi-private nature. Some day we hope that the sanitarium will provide a larger place in which such entertainments can be given so that more of the townspeople can have the opportunity of enjoying them with the guests and workers at this institution.

GUESTS OF PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Los Angeles are the guests for the week of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bott, 667 Patterson avenue.

According to recent reports there are 61,429 graves of American soldiers in seven foreign countries——Belgium, England, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg and Russia.

Of Russian invention is a fireproof building material resembling paper that can be made with paper making machinery.

LITERARY SECTION MEETS

The literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club is meeting today at the home of Mrs. A. M. Williams, curator, 208 South Orange street.

Armistice day is a legal holiday in Rhode Island.

Hupmobile

Prices Reduced to $200 to $325

Beginning immediately, Hupmobile prices are reduced $200 on Open cars, and $315 to $325 on Closed cars.

The Five-Passenger car and the Roadster are now $1485; the Sedan, $2485; the Coupe, $2400; all prices F. O. B. Detroit, war tax to be added.

What this reduction actually means is an increase in Hupmobile value that is worth far more than the revision in price.

The truth is that at its new price, and with its well known economy, low repair costs, long life, and high resale value, the Hupmobile stands forth today as the best buy in the motor car market.

This revision represents the rock bottom figure at which the high quality of the Hupmobile can be maintained.

AUTHOR IMPRESSED BY ATTRACTIONS OF GLENDALE

LIKES STREETS AND BUSINESS BLOCKS; PRAISES PLANT OF THE EVENING NEWS

"You will pardon my intrusion, I come here as a visitor, but your office attracted me."

With that introduction a stranger stepped up to the counter in The Glendale Evening News office at 7:50 o'clock last night.

"I am Peter Clark MacFarlane, who speaks at the Chautauqua tonight."

Ranking with Irvin S. Cobb and Samuel G. Blythe, this veteran reporter, newspaperman, magazine writer, author and lecturer made his presence known in a way that was so human, one could but wonder was it really he.

"I have never seen a neater office," he said. "Your circular counter here is comparable only with the copy desk of the New York Times. And your beautifully lighted town, its wide streets, substantial buildings impress me greatly. I do not know of having seen anything like it before."

Marvels at Fine Plant

Escorted through the composing room of the model plant in which The Glendale Evening News is published, he expressed surprise at its modernity. And it was easy to be seen that as he lingered in the room where printers' ink prevails, there were recollections of days when he had been a writer and an editor on daily newspapers.

Accompanying him to the chautauqua tent, the writer interviewed him but briefly—listening to what he had to say on the Japanese question. The thought which he wanted to convey is the theme of his lecture—Preparedness.

"I wonder," he mused, "if the war department in Washington has a map of this beautiful valley. I will venture to say that Tokio has. And to think that the American troops advanced into Belleau wood with French maps that were twenty-two years old—obsolete."

Approaching the chautauqua tent, he had the glad hand for the cashier.

"I am always glad to know the cashier," he commented, "even though it is not Saturday night, whether it be in the office of the Saturday Evening Post at Philadelphia or on the Ellison-White chautauqua circuit."

BOBBY LEHMAN FOR ONE ATTRACTION AT GLENDALE

JUVENILE IMPERSONATOR TO BE ON PROGRAM; PICTURE FEATURES EXCELLENT

It wasn't so many years ago that little Bobby Lehman was "home talent" around Glendale. But now he's a headliner and Manager William A. Howe is bringing this talented juvenile impersonator of la femme to the Glendale Theatre as an added attraction at the Tuesday and Wednesday first evening shows. "Bubbling Over" is the Rolin comedy on the bill and a Pathe Review also will be seen, not to forget the feature, "Worlds Apart," Eugene O'Brien's latest Selznick picture.

Mr. O'Brien plays the part of Hugh Ledyard, a scion of an old, illustrious family, who is jilted by the girl of his choice because of her desire for more money. His dreams shattered, and bitter against all mankind, he marries a girl whom he has met through his intervening when she attempts suicide. They live together for appearance sake, he never knowing anything of her past until a guest at their home, a rough, uncouth individual, for whom Hugh has been turned down by his former sweetheart, is killed. A servant accused of the crime, turns out to be his wife's father.

The manner in which the mystery is solved is an entirely original one, and the injection of an Oriental atmosphere into the story adds greatly to its interest.

If you desire to take advantage of Manager Howe's generosity, clip the coupons from The Glendale Evening News each night, for a series of six consecutively numbered entitle the bearer to a thirty-cent seat. Madame Clement will play "Mammy" (new) as the special organ number and this alone should be worth the trouble of clipping the coupons.

INGRATIATING

"This is the fifth time you have been brought up before me," said the judge severely.

"Yes, your Honor," smiled the offender. "When I likes a feller I generally gives him all me business."

American soldiers on the Rhine, in Germany, desiring to leave the army must return to the United States to receive their discharge.

Peter C. Macfarlane Served Long Ago As President For C. E.

Peter Clark Macfarlane, author, war correspondent and Chautauqua speaker, came to Glendale at a time significant to the Christian Endeavor.

It is this year—June 25 to 29—that this city is host to the state convention of that society.

Immediately across the street from where the hosts will meet, Mr. MacFarlane spoke last night on preparedness.

Years ago when the Los Angeles county Christian Endeavor Union first organized, Peter Clark Macfarlane served as its president.

That is truly coincidence worthy of chronicling.

MONTE VISTA HOME SECURES AID AT GARDEN PARTY

VARIED PROGRAM PRESENTED AND NUMBER OF BOOTHS ARE WELL PATRONIZED

Although full reports of ticket sales have not as yet been made to Mrs. R. W. Meeker, chairman, yet from the attendance present at the garden party given Saturday for the benefit of the kitchen fund for Monte Vista home for undernourished children, it is believed that well over $200 was made.

The program, which was in charge of Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, was very delightful and much appreciated by the audience.

The high school boy's jazz orchestra opened the program. This was followed by a group of three readings which were very well given by Howard Kent. Dorothy Dutton came next in a solo dance. Keamoku E. Lewis, tenor, then sang "I Love Thee" (Grieg) and "Elegie" (Massenet). Mr. Lewis has a wonderful voice and these selections were most excellently rendered.

Varied Features on Program

Two very cute readings were then given by little Ethelwyn Kent. The next number was a group of two humorous readings which were very well given by Ala M. Farmer of Los Angeles, "At the Movies" and "The Love Letter." Gould Moore then delighted the audience by giving two very clever songs and dances.

Lillian Seidel Carr, who has a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice, then gave three selections, "Come to the Garden of Love," "The Star" and "California." She instantly won the audience with her excellent renditions and pleasing personality.

Cecilia Mae Fisher of Burbank, the little girl who took the part of "The Little Princess" in the play recently given by the pupils of the Pearl Keller school, then gave a fancy dance, "The Magpie and the Parrot."

Chairmen of Committees

The chairmen of committees in charge of the various attractions were as follows: Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman program; Mrs. C. A. Parker, chairman candy; Mrs. J. G. Huntley, ice-cream; Mrs. Colin Cable, punch.

At the close of the program dancing was enjoyed to music furnished by the high school boys' jazz orchestra.

Tickets for a ride in L. C. Brand's aeroplane were also disposed of at the party. The winner's name has not as yet been announced.

Ed Lane, War Veteran, Purchases Home Here

Another returned veteran of the world war, who was wounded and incapacitated during service, Ed Lane, has purchased a home at 4049 Casitas street in the Atwater district. Mr. and Mrs. Lane and son, while in the Los Angeles district, still rejoice that they are so close to Glendale proper. The sale was made through the South Brand boulevard office of the realty firm of Charles B. Guthrie.

Quite a lot of toes are being stubbed along the road to normalcy.

PREPARE TO FIGHT TO RETAIN PEACE, URGES AUTHOR

ple of Glendale have responded in attending this year's Chautauqua and asked whether they were desirous of having it return next year. The answer to such a question is obvious. A number of public spirited men and women volunteered to act as guarantors in order that people may have the opportunity of attending these most entertaining and educational programs.

As stated by F. I. Drexler, director, the Chautauqua is run on a non-profit basis, and all monies over and above necessary expenses and salaries are put back into the business to secure better talent at lesser prices.

Chautauqua Closes Tonight

The program for this afternoon will be presented by Lieurance's Little Symphony orchestra. Thurlow Lieurance is conceded to be one of the country's greatest authorities on Indian music. Jane Peterson of Chicago, soloist with the Little Symphony has attracted considerable attention as a brilliant contralto. The prelude this evening, which will be the closing performance of the Chautauqua this year, will also be given by this orchestra. This will be followed by a lecture by Capt. T. D. Upton, a recognized authority on athletics and recreation.

In Southern California

Now for Some Turtle Soup

He was a hardshelled old turtle, older than civilization in California.

He was captured at Redondo Beach several days ago and placed on display in a tank at the Chamber of Commerce which would accommodate his 900 pounds of soup meat.

However, he got indigestion when they fed him potatoes and yesterday he died. Which means turtle soup will drop a nickel for the next month in the Los Angeles cafeterias undoubtedly.

Want Some Easy Money?

If you want to get rich quick, catch a mail robber. The postoffice department has the following schedule of rewards for the thieves, "dead or alive": Mail robbers, each, $5000; ordinary postal thief, each, $200; star route thief, $25 to $200; postoffice burglar, $50 to $200; accessory to theft, $50 to $200.

Purchase Poisoned Hams

Itinerant venders last week peddled poisoned hams in Los Angeles. The reduced rates were so alluring that many householders threw caution to the winds and now are paying the doctor for their ham. Others will be careful of what kind of goods is peddled to them hereafter.

Rain Does Damage—and Good

Scattering rain all over southern California yesterday did little damage and some good, although it was not sufficient to lay the dust. It stopped production at several motion picture plants using exterior sets and saved householders the trouble of irrigating new gardens or lawns.

Better Banking Arrangements

New banking arrangements made for the citrus growers in southern California gives them their returns from shipments five days earlier than heretofore. The money due them is transferred by telegraph each day by the banking correspondents.

SOUTH GLENDALE IS CAUSE FOR POEM TO 'DEAR KATIE'

BUSINESS MEN ARE LIVE ONES AND THEIR STORES WELL PATRONIZED BY PUBLIC

Glendale, May 17, 1921.

Dear Katie—Today I will give you a little ancient history and then a few present facts and I know you will be interested in what I tell you.

"Well, this mornin' I was roamin' around to find a artikle to write about for The Evening News and at last I come to a peanut stand where I bought a glass of orangeade.

Then off a little ways I saw a real old man settin' on a bench and he acted kinda sociable and I was tired so I set down beside him and begun to pass the times of the day with him.

"Well, I give him a cigar and he put it in his pocket and then he took out his pipe and old tobacco pouch and soon he was smokin' away like a hot box on the P. E. Then he got real talkative and he begun to tell me about himself and I got awful interested. He said he'd lived around there for a long long time.

"In the old Spanish days," he said, "there was sheep and cattle paths and old stage coach trails runnin' over this place where we are settin' at this minute."

I smelled a story Katie, so I got out my note book. He looked at me kinda funny for a minute, then he went on with his story.

"Narrow pathways," he said, "was made by the feet of the old Spanish padres, that wandered throu this valley on their way to visit their missions that are still standin' to this day and there was a lot of them old missions about a day apart on foot and here on this spot one day come a tired Spanish family and they settled down and builded a home out of mud and stones and grass and they had some goats and chickens and they set down to spend the rest of their lives in this place."

Old Man Hi Cost Absent

"Well," I says, "what did they do for a livin'?"

"Nothin' atall," he says. "Old H. C. L. in those days just meant Home, Comfort and Love. And maybe 50 years agone those Spanish people didn't dream of what today is a big city any more as you and I can know what will be here fifty years hence in the future. Well byanby some white folks come and builded a few more houses and so a little town was made which they named Etheldene and there was a grocery store went in with a pust office."

"But what happened to Etheldene?" I asked him.

"Etheldene," he said "is this little healthy part of Glendale that you see before you today?"

"Tropico?" I said in amazed surprise. "Now a part of Glendale?"

"Yes, Tropico," he says, "and Tropico, South Glendale, has got as good a outlook into the future as has the movie business."

I left him then Katie. My interest in Tropico was intents. I walked along gazing into the inside of all the stores which was fixed up nice and everything was as clean as a new shirt.

And here today was perfect pavements and beauteus bulevards and stead of the old stage coachs that used to rattle over dusty trails was big auto busses loaded with human bein's, skimmerin' along on their way to the great San Fernando valley.

Katie it all seemed so kinda strange that it made me feel poetical.

Bursts Into Poetry

How better can I explain the Tropico of today otherwise than by my influence with a poetical poem. So I did.

There's furniture stores and repair shops,
And a shop where furniture's made.
There's a doctor, a dentist and blacksmith,
And a stand for fine orangeade.

There's a peanut stand and a feed store,
A store for electric supplies.
There's grocery's and grills, meat shops and cafes,
That would give you a pleasant surprise.

There's a store for cleaning and pressing.
And shoes are repaired while you wait,
There's a shop for a shave and a hair cut,
And drug store that's right up to date.

There's a couple hotels and a plumber,
A baker and a sweet shop or two.
There's hardware and paints and honey in cans,
There's bargains there waiting for you.

There's auto repairing and painting,
And stations for gas and for oil,
There's garages galore with autos for sale
That do business accordin' to Hoyle.

There's a real estate office that's handy,
That will sell you a home and a lot, her

There's nothin' you'd want or could need
That this town can't get or has got.

You might go a mile, but you'll not go amiss
To trade in Tropico
You'll find what you want and want what you find.
And you'll get good service I know.

Say Katie, I just looked up the word "poet," in the dictonary and it says: A poet is one whose ideas of the beautiful and sublime gets him into jail or the poor house.

Well maybe so, Katie, so if you don't hear from me again soon, you'll know where I went anyway.

Poetically yours
E. C. HALE.

While Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Brenkman were visiting at Thornycroft Sunday night some one suffering with the chill night air "borrowed" two blankets from their car which was parked on the street. Mrs. Brenkman says after this when she goes to church or calling, she intends to take the rugs inside with her.

Prosperity Assured

The southern section of Glendale is pushing straight ahead. It has taken on new life. There is a decided feeling of optimism in the air, for all are confident of the future prosperity and rapid growth of this section. Investors and home-seekers alike have but recently awakened to its great possibilities, which has been reflected in the increased demand and higher prices for real estate. As one resident has said: "We want to be known as a live community, not a dead one."

It does not require that one be gifted with a vision to recognize the natural advantages of this locality, which is intersected by three great arteries of travel, with the Southern Pacific freight facilities available at this point.

The recent sale of acreage for factory sites beyond the Southern Pacific tracks, the building of these factories soon in prospect, the influx of laborers in the near future to man these factories, greatly increasing the population, which, in turn, means increased business for the local merchants—all this points to and spells success for a Greater Glendale.

Hostess at Luncheon

On Saturday afternoon Miss Marjorie Imler of 336 West Park avenue, entertained a number of her young lady friends at a dainty rose luncheon at her beautiful home known as Palm Villa. The rooms were exquisitely and artistically decorated with fragrant wreaths of pretty pink roses, the pink color scheme even being carried out in the elaborate hand-painted place cards, which helped to make the affair a success.

Most of the guests were former high school classmates, this being their first gathering since 1917, when they all graduated from the local school of higher learning. The afternoon was spent in talking over old times, a short musical program, games, etc., the young ladies declaring that they hadn't had such a pleasant afternoon since their high school days.

Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Imler were Mesdames Evangeline Smith and Esther Bradley, Misses Waunita Emery, Ernestine Lyon, Genevieve Chambers, Caryl Hurlburt and Doris Bagshaw of Glendale, and Miss Catherine Phillips of Hollywood.

Makes Trip to Georgia

Henry Eyraud, who has been employed at Packer & White's for a number of years, made a trip to Atlanta, Georgia, by automobile, accompanied by his wife. To his sister, Mrs. L. A. LeCom of 1517 San Fernando Road, he writes a glorious description of their trip. This is the first time Mr. Eyraud has ever been outside of California, which makes it a novel experience highly appreciated.

Take Tools, Leave Car

Fred Sifford of the Triangle building, Central avenue and San Fernando Road, left his car over night on the lot adjoining the building. The next morning he started to do some work on his car, and found that some one had taken a fancy to his tools. Mr. Sifford is congratulating himself on the fact that they did not take the car.

College Chums Meet

Miss Marguerite Fellows of Santa Barbara was the Sunday guest of Miss Marjorie Imler of 336 West Park avenue. These young ladies are former college chums, having attended the University of California together for three years. They are sorority sisters, being members of the Berkeley chapter of the Sigma Kappa sorority.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hurlburt of West Park avenue, with Miss Cora Hickman and her house guest, Mrs. Adelaide Sidas, returned Saturday morning from a five-days' automobile trip to Bakersfield, where they visited Miss Hickman's nephew, Eugene Imler of that city.

Residence Is Sold

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ray of 1235 South Maryland have sold their house at this address to Harry Wesley of Los Angeles. The Rays will move this week to another house they own at 340 West Palmer avenue.

Picnic Party Enjoyed

Woman Denies Being Slayer Four Husbands

HONOLULU, T. H., May 17.—Mrs. Lydia Southard, held as an alleged feminine "Bluebeard," charged with the murder of four husbands and a brother-in-law today held firmly to her claim that she was a natural typhoid carrier and that her husbands died of typhoid fever contracted from her.

"After I am proven innocent I will sue my accusers on the mainland for damages," she declared in an exclusive statement for the United Press.

"I never had typhoid fever myself, but I am convinced that my husbands contracted it from me. Scientists say I can be a carrier without being affected.

"As to my collecting insurance policies when my husbands died, I never collected any, although I had some due me.

"There was some talk after my last husband died and that was why I had an inquest held then."

Mrs. Southard asked Chief of Detectives Arthur McDuffie what kind of poison she was charged with using.

"Why, I understand it was the kind they kill weeds with," McDuffie answered.

"They'll have to prove that," Mrs. Southard commented.

Mrs. Southard refused to attend religious services in the jail Sunday.

"I don't care for that sort of thing," she told the jail matron. The matron is kept with her constantly.

Mrs. Southard now eats and associates with the other women prisoners and is given the liberty of the jail.

She has signed a statement formally waiving extradition.

Vivid Wool Wig Is Latest For Vampires

LONDON—Not content with merely emulating the "vamp," as originated by her American sister, the London girl is camouflaging as Cleopatra.

In this connection she has assumed a new "transformation" which, however, bears no resemblance to human hair. The new fandangle is exactly the kind of wig a woman might wear to a fancy-dress dance masquerading as Cleopatra, but it is made of wool, and brightly colored wool at that—vivid blue or cerise, or perhaps green or purple.

There is the straight fringe in front, the "hair" hanging straight and lank over the ears at the sides and down to the neck at the back. These woolen wigs are very popular among the set that once indulged in the "airy, fairy" boudoir cap.

PLAN REDUCTION IN ANNUAL TAX BILL IF PERMITTED

CONGRESS WOULD LIKE TO CUT EXPENSES BUT ADMIT THAT IT IS VERY DOUBTFUL

By HERBERT W. WALKER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17.—America's annual tax bill will be fixed by Congress at $3,500,000,000 if plans of leading members of the house ways and means committee go through.

They would like to reduce the per capita taxation to $30 for every man, woman and child in the country or $3,000,000,000, but with continued larger appropriations they admit it is doubtful if it can be done.

It now appears certain that no sales tax will be enacted at this session, according to several leaders.

Taxes To Be Repealed

Tax changes will be along the following lines:

1—Excessive profits, now one of the big sources of revenue.

2—Soda water, ice-cream and some of the more "obnoxious" consumption levies.

3—Transportation taxes.

Some uncertainty exists as to whether the theatre admission taxes will be repealed.

The new tax bill, in general, will follow these lines:

1—Reduced surtaxes on higher incomes to the maximum percentage will not be more than 40 per cent.

2—Possible lowering of the normal income tax rate from 4 to 3 rate, although this has been opposed.

3—Increased flat corporation rate from 4 to 15 per cent with the imposition of 15 per cent tax on undistributed profits of corporations, to make up for the loss caused by repeal of the excess profits tax.

Prevent Stock Dividends

It is believed this would tend to prevent issuance of stock dividends, which have been held untaxable.

4—Increased tobacco taxes from 50 to 100 per cent.

5—Taxes of $6.40 a gallon on all liquors withdrawn from bond, compared with the present rate of $2.20.

Taxation of estates, insurance, club dues, child labor products and the so-called stamp taxes, as applied to various legal documents and business papers, probably will remain the same.

Verdugo Wash Channel Improvement Proposed

Improvement of the Verdugo Wash channel, north of the Opeechee Way protection works, was considered at the meeting of the Board of City Trustees Thursday, following the reading of a communication from T. W. Watson, city manager, and it is probable that $400 will be included in the coming year's budget for the work, provided the Newport company and the county of Los Angeles give financial assistance, too. The city manager's communication:

"The Verdugo Wash channel extending north from the Opeechee Way protection works for a distance of several hundred feet is very narrow and crooked. This is possibly the most dangerous and unprotected portion of the entire Verdugo Wash channel within the city limits of Glendale.

"The Newport company is willing to dedicate the necesary land for the purpose of straightening this channel as indicated on blue print attached and is also willing to pay a considerable portion of the expense. The cost is estimated to be approximately $1300. J. W. Reagan, chief engineer of the Los Angeles County Flood Control district, we understand will recommend an appropriation of $600 towards this expense. The Newport company in addition to dedicating the land is willing to pay $400 toward improving the channel.

"We would respectfully recommend that an appropriation of $400 be included in next year's budget for the purpose of assisting in carrying out this improvement with the understanding that the appropriation will not be available until after the 15th of November next and with the further understanding that $400 is to be subscribed by the Newport company and that the Flood Control district will pay $600."

Too Much Sunshine May Make You Sick

LONDON—"Temperance in sun, as in all things," is the rule laid down by Dr. Crawshaw Holt, medical officer of Glassop, who has caused a sensation by declaring that sunlight is a prolific cause of disease. "It is necessary to remove from people's minds the impression that unlimited exposure to the sun must be beneficial. The chemical action of the sun produces certain alterations in the cells of the body which make them suitable food for disease germs.

"Epidemic diarrhoea occurs always in places where there is a strong sun and is most fatal to children under twelve months old, who have no pigment underneath the skin."

Lowering P. E. Tracks Is Urged At Hearing

The hearing of the case in regard to lowering the Pacific Electric tracks on Brand boulevard at Stocker and Dryden streets, which was brought before the attention of the railroad commission by the Casa Verdugo Improvement association, took place yesterday afternoon at La Ramada. The meeting was attended by fifty property owners and others interested. Representatives of the railroad commission in attendance were Commissioner Loveland, Examiner Williams and Engineer Weeks. The Casa Verdugo Improvement association was represented by Attorney H. H. Harris, the Pacific Electric by Attorney Karr and Vice-president Titcomb.

Some fifteen witnesses testified as to the unsightliness of the tracks in their present condition, inconvenience and danger to the children. The railroad company witnesses claimed that the cost of this improvement would be $15,000. Miss Myrtle Baldwin, who recently purchased La Ramada and Casa Verdugo restaurants, testified that she proposed to put in a tourist hotel and told of the great value the lowering of the tracks would have on real estate in that section. Others who testified were J. W. M. Burton and James Wyvel.

The case was taken under advisement by the railroad commission and will be reported on by them after all data has been collected and considered.

Local High Ball Team And Citrus Union Meet

The baseball game which was scheduled for last Friday between the local high school team and that of Citrus union high school will take place this afternoon at Azusa. Coach Hayhurst will carry fourteen players in an effort to down his opponents and thereby regain third place in the Central league standings. "Aggie" Aageson, the blond-headed curve ball expert, will do the pitching for Glendale, while Tom Morgan will work behind the plate.

Cunningham Plant Will Be Producing In Month

With their heavy overhead shafting already installed, the Cunningham Manufacturing company, whose plant adjoins the Glendale city water pumping plant on north San Fernando road, today is expecting the arrival of a carload of machinery which will equip their plant for the production of flywheel starter gears for motorcars.

According to C. C. Cunningham, who has recently come here from Meadeville, Pa., to act as sales manager for the specialty, the plant will be actively manufacturing within another month. For the time the Cunningham brothers will devote their time to gear making, but as the manufacturing district encroaches into the San Fernando valley they hope to become the center for machine work.

Both H. R. Cunningham of Pomona and G. H. Cunningham of Newcastle, Pa., have established their homes in Glendale and C. C. Cunningham expects to do so before fall.

Tropico Sunday School To Picnic On Saturday

Everyone likes a picnic and the boys and girls of the Tropico Presbyterian Sunday school are no exception. Brookside is also a favorite location for good times, so a truck has been hired to carry about sixty over there next Saturday, leaving the church about 1 p. m. Parents in their machines are planning to take over the older people of the church.

Of course there will be swimming, then races and games and an early supper, each class being responsible for one kind of dish. Yes, it is rumored that an ice cream freezer goes along. Plans are to leave the park at 6 o'clock that the little ones will be home before dark. The committee in charge is Mrs. W. R. Alexander, Loys Griswold, H. E. Fry, S. H. Wilcox and Miss Carol Duncan.

PLENTY OF PRAISE BEING GIVEN TO LEFTY HERMAN

GETS HOME RUN, IS FEATURED IN FILM, PICKS HOT ONE ALONG FOUL LINES

Already dubbed an "elongated Eskimo."

Playing first base on the Edmonton, Alberta, team in the Western Canada league.

Slamming a home run over the right field fence far into an open field.

Featuring a film in the display of his prowess.

Picking off a foul fly among the crowd in front of the stand near first base.

That's an idea of "Lefty" Floyd Herman's activity in the opening ball game between Edmonton and Calgary one week ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Herman, 441 West Harvard street, Glendale, and is known by every high school student here as their diamond hero of 1921.

The above report was only a part of the story about the game which attracted a record crowd, as published in the Edmonton Bulletin. It says in part:

Herman Goes Great

"Herman's long swat over the right field fence, well up towards the score board, was the batting feature of the day.

"Herman distinguished himself by picking off a foul fly among the crowd in front of the stand near first base.

"Herman drove a red-hot grounder to Viveiros who, in throwing to second hit the runner in the back and the ball rolled to the outfield.

"First Baseman Herman wound up the scoring in the eighth by leaning on the ball hard enough to light it over the right field fence a short distance from the scoreboard. It was one of the longest hits ever made in the park."

In the box score it is noted that in four times at bat, he made one run and two hits and thirteen putouts without an error. He wrote to his friend, Andrew McDonnel of 215 East Garfield avenue that he "took a pickup from Giola in a double play" which was another feature of the game.

Mock Marriage Proves To Be Binding One

MORGANTOWN, Ky.—Wiley Bass and Miss Grace McCabe worked in the same bank at Woodbury, this county. They decided to play a joke on the village.

They planned a mock marriage, invited numerous guests, took out an honest-to-goodness license and called in a sure-enough magistrate.

But the friend who went to see the magistrate was a joker himself. He forgot to tell him to make it a jest ceremony.

The "mock" marriage had almost been forgotten when it was found the magistrate had filed his official record and the marriage was legal.

Mr. and Mrs. Bass refuse to be interviewed.

They still work at the bank but return to their respective homes. Friends can't find out what steps they plan to take.

Watching Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero—Cy Williams, the Philly outfielder, busted a homer with one on in the second inning and the Phils beat the Pirates, 3 to 0.

Coumbe held the Giants hitless for 4 innings, but they ran him to the showers in the fifth, scoring 5 runs. The Reds lost, 7 to 4.

The Cardinals battered Miljus and Mitchell hard and won their third straight game from the Robins, 4 to 3.

The Yankees had two big innings—the first and ninth—off Duster Nails and took the third straight game from the Indians, 6 to 3. Meusel got a homer and Ruth a triple.

Urban Faber rushed to the aid of Dick Kerr when he started to wobble and won his fourth straight game, beating the Athletics, 5 to 4.

The Braves had no trouble hitting Big Jim Vaughn and the Cubs lost, 7 to 1.

Detroit and Washington made a total of 35 hits, Detroit winning, 17 to 11. Eight doubles, eight triples and a homer by Heilman were included.

Hendryx and Pratt hit doubles with the bags jammed, helping the Red Sox beat the Browns, 10 to 5.

CLEVELAND BUNCH HAVE SETBACK; ST. LOUIS CARDS GIVE GIANTS JOB

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 17.—No startling results were produced by the first skirmishes of the east-west intersectional battles in the major leagues.

With the exception of the Cleveland Indians, form was followed by all the leaders.

Tris Speaker learned what the other eastern teams have come to know—that Washington is a mighty tough ball club to beat.

The world's champions succeeded in winning only one game out of four from the Senators and thus dropped their first series of the year.

The Pirates, National league pace setters, took two out of three games from the Boston Braves, but they had to go the limit to get them. The Braves are also a tough club to beat, even if they don't seem headed for any place in particular.

Give Giants Some Job

The St. Louis Cards, which had been easy meat for all the western clubs, gave the Giants quite a job. McGraw's men won three of the four games, but they were a pleased ball club when the ninth inning removed the pesky Rickeyites.

Brooklyn found the Reds so easy in the first three games that Robby's men threw a peeve when the Cincinnati club grabbed the last number of the series.

The Yankees managed to stagger through the Detroit series and win three out of four games—largely with the help of the great Babe Ruth. The Yankees are in a sorry plight for pitchers.

Johnny Evers is still driving the Cubs along. He took three out of four games from the Phillies.

The Boston Red Sox, who are traveling right along, took two out of three from the shattered White Sox.

Noted Short Story On Screen, Palace Grand

"Straight Is the Way," the latest Paramount-Cosmopolitan picture which is on view at the Palace Grand theatre today only, is taken from Ethel Watts Mumford's famous short story, "The Manifestation of Henry Ort," the scenario being prepared by Frances Marion. It is a satirical comedy drama revolving around a ouija board and marks a distinct departure for Director Vignola, who has identified himself in the past almost exclusively with serious subjects.

A bit of "inside" information is the fact that the production of this picture was in the nature of a labor of love with Vignola, who decided he must do this story immediately he read it. What attracted him particularly were the unusually brilliant shafts of satire, the rare situations, and the delightfully human characterizations.

"The Slicker" is a two-part comedy riot which adds zest to the bill and the music by Nils Gilliam's Palace Grand orchestra has "Make Believe" as its overture and other popular numbers.

Barnes-Shuck Music Store Opens In City

In the opening of the Barnes-Shuck Music company store at 211 North Brand boulevard, this city boasts of another representative house which bespeaks the tone of the city.

As distributors for the Burnham supertone phonographs, records, pianos, sheet music, player rolls and musical instruments they have equipped a beautiful display room with soundproof booths. Green and white are used in the color scheme, both in the lights and tapestries. The interior finish of the room is done in old ivory and mahogany.

The members of the firm are Al Barnes, widely known for his compositions of popular music including the Buddha Girl and Tennessee Tune, and Fred V. Shuck, an experienced salesman of musical instruments. Through the columns of The Glendale Evening News they have invited the public's inspection of their new establishment.

TO STOP SNORING

Mrs. Alfy Reeding, whose husband is an awful snorer, writes the Thomas Cat to find out what is good for a man who snores with his mouth open clear to his shoulder blades while riding on a passenger train. There are several good remedies. If he is prone to sleep and breathe with a low death rattle like the exhaust of a bath tub, it would be a good plan to tie up his head in a feather bed and then insert the whole thing in the linen closet; or, if you cannot secure that, let him stick it out of the window and get it knocked off against a tunnel. The stockholders might get mad about it, but he could do it in such a way that they wouldn't know whose head it was.

Glendale Elks Plan To Welcome Visitors

Balloting of candidates was the chief business transacted at the meeting of the Glendale lodge of Elks, No. 1289. At the next meeting approximately eighteen new members will be initiated.

During the business meeting it was decided that Glendale will not attempt to secure a place on the program of the National Elks' Convention week, but would keep open house the entire week and have a reception committee at the clubhouse to receive visitors. The reason for this decision is because it is believed that probably 80 per cent or 90 per cent of the delegates will be from states in the interior which are away from the ocean. It is believed that the activities along the beaches will be the ones which will interest them most.

Elaborate preparations are being made by the Elks of Redondo, Long Beach, Santa Monica and neighboring cities to royally entertain the visitors during that week. Pasadena has also taken a similar stand as Glendale in regard to the entertainment of the guests.

Entire Line Of Fisk Tires Is Cut In Price

The Fisk Rubber company today announced a substantial reduction in the prices of their entire line of tires. The new prices show decreases of from 12½ per cent to 20 per cent.

This reduction places quality tires within the reach of all car owners as it brings the first cost of high grade tire equipment to a low enough level to conform with their necessary economies.

PASTOR SPEAKS ON JONAH AND WHALE; FACT? FICTION?

MANY ATTEND SERVICES IN FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH TO HEAR DR. FUNK

The story of "Jonah and the Whale" brought out a large attendance at the First Lutheran church Sunday morning. Dr. Funk based his remarks on the text found in the Book of Jonah, at the first chapter and the seventeenth verse, "Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights." Rev. Funk said:

"There has been a disposition to treat this subject with a good deal of levity. Washington Gladden said that the story was a preposterous tale; and a great deal of fault has been found with the account because they say the scientists have proved that the gullet of a whale is too small for the body of a man to pass through. Well, that reminds me of a man who claims that he is a skeptic because, he declares, that Christian people are the worst persecutors on earth, and proves his claim by writing a book on 'The Doom of Dogma and the Dawn of Truth,' in which he makes the statement concerning the execution of Servetus: 'It is well known that Luther and Besa applauded the deed.'

"Now what is the fact about this declaration by a man who claims to have superior scientific knowledge? Well, the truth is that Servetus was burned in October, 1553, and Luther died in February, 1546. So if Luther applauded this burning it could have been known only to those who were beyond the grave. And yet this is a fair specimen of the arguments used by so-called skeptical scientists.

Facts About Whole Story

"But what are the facts about this whale story? First, the original account does not say anything about a whale. Here we are told that the Lord had prepared a 'great fish to swallow up Jonah.' The translators of the New Testament used the word "whale" to indicate a great fish. And secondly, scientists have shown that there are great fish in the sea that weigh more than 110 tons, and have been known to swallow objects nine feet in diameter, while bodies as big as a horse have been found in the stomach.

"The subject of Jonah and the whale was discussed in a ministerial association some time ago, and it is interesting to note the divergent views. The two Reformed pastors held the story was pure fiction with a moral lesson. The Moravian, Disciple and Presbyterian ministers declared that the account had never disturbed their faith. One Methodist pastor said the story was a piece of fiction, a second was undecided, and the third believed it was an account of fact. Now the ministers that held to the fiction theory were not irreverent. Indeed, they insisted that they were more reverent than the others because they did not charge up the Lord with such a ridiculous story and then expect people to believe it.

Needed to Learn Lesson

"We believe the story is a fact, and not a piece of fiction. The people of Nineveh were doomed to destruction unless something extraordinary was done to save them. And if God sent His only son to seek and to save the lost sheep of the house of Israel, why should it be deemed a thing incredible for him to send Jonah to save the Ninevites?

"Well, but you say, if that is a true story, what was the use of having Jonah swallowed by a fish? It is generally held to be a punishment for his disobedience. It is true that Jonah needed to learn a lesson; indeed, all men who try to run away from a duty imposed upon them by the good and gracious God need to learn that you cannot thwart the purposes of God. The Jews needed to learn a lesson. They were narrow and selfish, believing that Jehovah was a national God. They, together with all men, must learn that little narrow, petty jealousies cannot confine the mercy of God to any particular class on account of their bigotry.

"It is not out of harmony with God's plan to accommodate himself to the needs of fallen man. We are told that the Chaldean found everything by searching the stars, so God accommodated Himself to them and used the star of Bethlehem to lead them to the infant Saviour. Again when the prophet Elijah met Ahab the challenge to a test of fire was given because they were fire worshippers. And God sent the fire, didn't he? Pharaoh and Nebuchadnezzar believed in dreams, and God had His servants, Joseph and Daniel, interpret their dreams. When God sent His son He put on our flesh and they laid His body in a manger.

What It All Means

"What does all this mean? This: That you must come down to the level of man at some point, if you want to reach him. So by 'the foolishness of preaching' God wanted to save the Ninevites, the chief city of the Assyrian Empire, the largest known city in the world at that time. These Ninevites worshiped the fish God, their chief divinity being Dagan. What Jupiter was to the Romans, Zeus to the Greeks, Dagan was to the Assyrians. They believed that from time to time Dagan came up or sent up a messenger from the sea to warn them of impending perils and give them instruction in every needful thing. It has ever been God's plan to save men by the 'foolishness of preaching" and in sending Jonah just as He did the Ninevites would be most willing to hear and accept his teaching. We believe the story to be a fact because it does not read like fiction. It is the record of an actual occurrence. Finally, we believe it is a fact because Christ claims it to be a fact when he declares, 'As Jonah was three days and three nights in the whale's belly, so shall the son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.' "
